FINSTHWAITE CHAPEL BURIALS (1725-1809)

The burial plan shown for inside the chapel is a best fit given the lack of detail in the records, and is therefore not drawn exactly to scale. In the Great Aisle near the Waterside Pew, or Under the women's fifth and sixth forms near the wall, are typical burial entries in the chapel book. As well as the burials shown on the plan, according to the chapel registers there were another 33 people interred inside the building for whom there is no plot given. There was only one inscribed memorial floor slab, to the Braithwaite family (91 & 105), laid along the Little Aisle. This was removed to its present site near the lych gate.

* Old register tomb 154 moved to avoid church buttress.  Headstone of Douglas grave sited in wrong place.
